41st INIT INDOOR MEETING Karlsruhe on 8 February 2026

Advance ticket sales start on 18 November 2025

World-class athletics is coming to the Europahalle Karlsruhe for a Sunday afternoon session: on Sunday, 8 February 2026, the international indoor athletics series World Athletics Indoor Tour Gold will be stopping off at the Europahalle. Starting at 4:30 p.m., spectators will experience the fifth of a total of eight tour stops live on site. This means that Karlsruhe remains part of the highest category awarded for indoor meetings. As in 2025, TV and streaming images from Karlsruhe will be broadcast worldwide – last year, the meeting was seen in over 120 countries.

Ticket sales start on 18 November 2025

Anyone who wants to attend the 41st edition of the INIT INDOOR MEETING Karlsruhe should make a note of Tuesday, 18 November 2025: that's when advance sales of the 3,500 tickets will start. Tickets are available online from Ticketmaster, at all known advance booking offices and at the Schaufenster Karlsruhe tourist information office on the market square. Seated tickets cost 45 euros, with reduced tickets available for 35 euros.

Stops on the World Indoor Tour Gold 2026

The World Indoor Tour Gold 2026 begins on 24 January with the New Balance Indoor Grand Prix in Boston (USA). Just a few days later, on 1 February, the traditional Millrose Games in New York will follow. On 3 February, the tour continues in Europe: the Czech Indoor Gala takes place in Ostrava (Czechia), followed by the meeting in Madrid (Spain) on 6 February. Just two days later, the athletics elite will meet in Karlsruhe.

Further stops include the Belgrade Indoor Meeting on 11 February in Serbia, the Hauts-de-France Pas-de-Calais Meeting on 19 February in Liévin (France) and, finally, the ORLEN Copernicus Cup in Toruń (Poland) on 22 February.
